HALE REPORT ON MEXICO TODAY

Lays Result of Investigation of Conditions Before Wilson and Bryan

SAYS PEACE PLANS OF WILSON WILL SUCCEED

Gamboa Informs Lind of Huerta's Near Retirement—Refugees Crowd 'Esperanza'

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Drew Caminetti testified in his own defense today, following M. H. Diepenbroek, the owner of the building in Sacramento where Diggs maintained his office. On the stand Diepenbroek, when asked if he ordered Diggs to vacate because of reports that he had women in his office, said: "I said to Diggs, 'There have been young girls in your office.' He replied 'No, they were society ladies.' Then I said they must be nice society ladies." Prosecutor Sullivan tried to establish the identity of these girls but Diepenbroek could not tell.

Caminetti remained on the stand but twenty minutes. He was not cross-examined. He failed to attack the stories of girl witnesses. He told of visiting Mrs. Diggs and that she threatened him, saying: "You have long been a snake to me." She threatened to take action because of Caminetti's and Diggs' attentions to the Warrington and Norris girls. He laid stress on his fears of remaining in Sacramento on account of his liaison with the Norris girl.

"Diggs' father was determined not to have his son ruined by those he thought were exercising a bad influence on him," Caminetti said. Then he continued:

"Diggs' uncle, Charles Lasley, told me that Miss Warrington's father threatened to kill her and Diggs and me. If we were found together, Diggs' father telephoned me at the Board of Control office and said: 'You are not a fit man to work on the Board of Control, and I am going to take steps to let him find it out. You are running around the country with girls, carousing and carrying on as no married man should.'"

Caminetti then told more of Mrs. Caminetti's actions when she visited her. The woman said she was extremely nervous and had not slept for a week. She threatened to tell the Warrington and Norris girls' fathers unless the liaison was stopped. He testified that this was while Diggs was hiding at the Columbia Hotel in Sacramento to avoid his father.

When Defense Attorney Howe asked Caminetti if he believed these threats, he replied "Yes," and then told of the quartette's rendezvous at the Peerless Cafe.

"Diggs there told us that his father was coming from Berkeley to take drastic action," said Caminetti. "Then I said: 'I'm gone.' Miss Warrington said she would not go, no matter what happened, because it would hurt her parents. Miss Warrington turned to her and said: 'You'll have to go, I'm going.'"

Caminetti was followed on the stand by Mrs. Diggs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—After the defense had closed, Caminetti's attorneys moved that the jury be instructed to acquit. Judge Van Fleet then declared: "There is ample evidence which if found true by the jury is sufficient to convict under this indictment. It is not necessary to show that it was done for profit. Any act of immorality if accompanied by transportation to another state is sufficient to convict under this enactment." He denied the motion.

Caminetti faces another day of suspense, as the arguments were not concluded today. It is probable that the case will go to the jury about noon tomorrow.

JEWELRY TRUST TO BE PROSECUTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—District Attorney Marshall today announced that Attorney General McReynolds had instructed him to prosecute the jewelry trust under the Sherman act. The National Wholesale Jewelry Association of Philadelphia and 172 jobbers throughout the country will be affected by the prosecution.

HUERTA NOT CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY, SAYS GAMBOA
MEXICO CITY, Sept. 4.—John Lind has reported to President Wilson that he now regards his mission to Mexico as having been successfully accomplished. Direct and positive assurance that General Huerta will not be a candidate for the Presidency of Mexico at the coming election has, it is stated, been given to the government of the United States by Federico Gamboa, minister of foreign affairs.

Senor Gamboa, who has acted as General Huerta's spokesman in the negotiations with the United States, gave this assurance to Nelson C. Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires, who has kept in constant touch with the Mexican foreign office since Mr. Lind left Mexico City for Vera Cruz. It was given verbally, but is regarded by Mr. O'Shaughnessy and Mr. Lind as none the less valuable on that account.

Gen. Geronimo Trevino is making his way to the capital, and little effort has been made to disguise the fact that he has been summoned officially. It is believed the provisional presidency will be turned over to him.

RIVERSIDE PLANS TO PURCHASE TWO WATER SYSTEMS

RANCHER SHOTS SAN DIEGO DENTIST

Then Hangs Self in Jail Cell; Dr. Welch is Near Death in Hospital

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 4.—After shooting and probably fatally wounding Dr. R. S. Welch, a dentist, in East San Diego last night, Herman Bergstedt, a rancher, hanged himself in a cell in the county jail this morning.

Dr. Welch is near death in the hospital. Welch was shot as he alighted from a street car. Bergstedt refused to talk when arrested. A woman's glove was found in his pocket.

AVIATRIX FELL INTO THE BAY

THAW IS DENIED BENEFIT OF JACK JOHNSON RULING

COATICOOK, Quebec, Sept. 4.—It was learned today that Attorney La Flamme, Harry Thaw's counsel, left here on a mysterious trip last night. It is generally believed that he went to Montreal to try for a writ of habeas corpus to liberate his client from the custody of the immigration officials. The New York state attorneys say they expect to secure Thaw's deportation and get him into Vermont before a habeas corpus writ can be served if obtained.

E. B. Blake Robertson, superintendent of the Canadian immigration board, questioned Thaw, who for the first time described his trip into Canada following his escape from Matteawan insane asylum. Thaw said he was enroute to Pittsburgh when he was apprehended. He bought a ticket for Beaver Falls, Pa., but on arriving there found it to be the end of the line. He then decided to go to Coaticook, where he expected to buy a ticket to Pittsburgh. On reaching Coaticook he was arrested.

Doctors Burd and Beauchamp, connected with the Canadian medical service, examined Thaw regarding his sanity.

The physicians watched Thaw closely during his testimony. Attorney Shurtcliffe of the Pittsburgher's counsel, said:

"It would be a travesty on justice if the physicians declared Thaw insane on his actions today. He has been cool and composed."

Thaw gave the following statement to the newspaper men:

"We have been informed that one of the motives behind New York's illegal pursuit of me is the suspicion in influential quarters that if I am put on trial outside of New York we might uncover those names we protected in 1907. We are forced to state that we have no intention of uncovering these."

At 3 o'clock three of Thaw's lawyers conferred over an apparently important matter and reported that new issues will be injected in the case, possibly causing a delay in Thaw's deportation.

The board of inquiry decided that Thaw is not a transient tourist, therefore not entitled to a pass through Canada under the recent Jack Johnson ruling. This means that he will be dealt with as an ordinary immigrant.

Big Delegation From Santa Ana Going to Attend the Revival

This morning a committee of the Ministerial Association started a movement to have a big delegation go from Santa Ana tomorrow night to attend the revival at Anaheim, and by their presence show that they are with those who are making a fight to up later.

G. B. Shattuck, chairman of the transportation and railroad committee, reported that the Santa Fe cannot see its way clear to granting stop-over privileges to those traveling between Los Angeles and San Diego on the Santa Fe. The matter will be taken up later.

At the request of the Los Angeles and San Diego Chambers of Commerce, the directors passed a resolution favoring a greater United States navy and a larger Pacific Coast fleet.

For Both Proposals

Steps were taken for active work in favor of the passage of the $63,000 water works bonds and the $12,000 fire department bonds on Sept. 11, and in favor of the passage of the three-cent tax levy ordinance on Sept. 12. The directors are particularly interested in the passage of the ordinance for the reason that it makes provision for securing about $1900 annually for advertising, parks and band concerts. L. L. Shaw, H. J. Forgy and J. C. Metzgar are a committee to get out literature in favor of passing the proposals.

BILL TO BANISH ALL WOODEN CARS

AGENT OF OPIUM RING CAPTURED

Congress May Force Railroads to Retire Inflammable Cars Within 5 Years

Rev. Brown, the evangelist, will reserve seats for the Santa Ana delegation. He stated this morning that delegations from both Orange and Fullerton have visited the revival, and that he will be glad to see a big crowd over from Santa Ana tomorrow evening.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—Federal officers today arrested Ralph Morris, aged 28, of Oakland, at the Southern Pacific station arriving from Colton with 500 tael tins of opium. He said that he is the agent of a ring operating at Mexicali.

Morris, who had purchased a ticket for Oakland, admitted that he is a carrying agent but refused to incriminate others in the ring.

In the capture of Morris at the Arcade station and the finding of $7000 worth of opium in his suitcase the police declare they have the key to the secret opium smuggling ring.

DROVE AUTO THROUGH OPEN DRAWBRIDGE

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 4.—The Burlington railroad, co-operating with the Iowa State Agricultural College, soon is to operate a special apple-picking demonstration through the rural districts of Iowa. Experts from the college will give lectures on apple-picking, packing, storage and marketing.

ANDES INTERIOR WILDER THAN LIVINGSTONE'S WILDEST AFRICA

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Dr. Hallon Rice, noted English explorer, who has just arrived here, declares the Amazon and Orinoco rivers have their origin within a few miles of each other in the Andes. He says the country he explored was wilder than Africa at the time Livingstone entered it.

FOUR TUNA CAUGHT AT NEWPORT BEACH BY WILLIAM HALL

Newport Beach is having the greatest fishing season in its history. Not only are mackerel plentiful, but yesterday William Hall, formerly of Newport Beach and now of Colton, caught four tuna about four miles off Newport Beach. Hall brought the fish, the heaviest of which weighed thirty-eight pounds and the lightest twenty-six, to gaff with a fifteen-strand line and a nine-ounce rod.

Monday the 9-9 launch got a dozen fine yellowtail. Yesterday off the wharf one man got 105 mackerel in an hour.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—As a result of the recent wreck of the Alaska steamer, the "State of California," Senator Poinsett of Washington today announced that he is preparing a resolution providing for the charting and lighting of all Pacific waters now uncharted.

UNCONSCIOUS MRS. SEIDEL RESCUED

Plane Breaks, Machine Turns Over Twice Before Striking the Water

WOMAN IS HELD UNDER BY WIRE

While jockeying for a start in a race being staged on Newport Bay for a motion picture between motorboat and hydro-aeroplane driven by the aviatrix, Florence Seidel of Santa Ana, the air craft fell 100 feet, turning over twice, into the water, pinioning the woman beneath the surface. She was rescued unconscious by the motor boat crew. Her lungs were emptied of water while being taken ashore, where she revived. The injuries are slight.

The aviatrix was about 100 feet in the air when one of the planes broke. Instantly the machine tilted, and began to descend, making two "flips" on the way down. The woman pluckily held to the wheel in an endeavor to right the machine. That is probably all that saved her. She was unable to make a good landing, owing to the broken plane, and the water was hit abruptly with the result that the hydro-aeroplane turned over. Mrs. Seidel got free from her seat, and was in the water. The machine rolled over and one of the wires of the machine caught her and held her down.

Lee Collins with an assistant was in the fast racing motorboat Biss but a short distance from where the accident occurred, and reached the place and had Mrs. Seidel out of the water probably within two minutes after the air craft struck the water.

The aviatrix's lungs were full of water, and she was practically unconscious when lifted into the Biss, where she was held head downwards so that water ran from her lungs. She was transferred from the Biss to another boat, was landed and taken into a private house. The accident occurred between Balboa and Corona Del Mar.

Superficial examination indicated that the woman's back was hurt. Recovering consciousness, the woman quickly indicated to those who were gathered around her that she was not badly hurt. After she had rested an hour or two, the only complaint she made was of pain in her lungs. This afternoon she was moved to the cottage of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bartlett, at Newport Beach.

Henry Seidel, proprietor of the Gem Market, husband of the aviatrix, was notified by telephone of the accident, which occurred at 10:30 o'clock, and he made a fast run to Balboa. Dr. H. E. W. Barnes, of Santa Ana, at whose home Mr. and Mrs. Seidel live, was called to attend to the injured woman. He states that she will recover and will suffer only temporary inconvenience from the experience, shock and water.

The motion picture feature had been planned for the Photo Player Company of Los Angeles. The company had its moving picture camera at work when the plane broke, and the fall occurred. The operator kept right on the job, and got an 800-foot film of the accident and rescue.

The machine was badly damaged in the fall. The water at the point where the aviatrix was rescued was shallow, and the pontoons held the machine up.

TWO GERMAN ARMY AVIATORS KILLED AS PLANE TURTLED

BRIEG, Germany, Sept. 4.—Lieutenants Erchenbrecher and Prince, military aviators, were killed today when their monoplane turned turtle 300 feet in the air.

DECAY OF RURAL CHURCHES IS BLAMED ON RURAL MINISTERS

Grossest Forms of Sin Now Found in Rural Towns; Preachers Neglect Flocks; Look for City Pulpits

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 4.—Hundreds of rural churches are dead and hundreds more are dying and the rural ministers are to blame entirely, according to James W. Street of Mackinaw, Ill., of the Rural Church Department at Bethany Park, Ind. In an article written for the United Press, J. W. Street scathingly denounces the young minister who accepts a rural pulpit merely as a stepping stone for a charge in the city. His article follows:

BY J. W. STREET
(Written for the United Press.)

That the rural church is decadent is not questioned by those who have scanned the stream that overflows in the urban centers of population. It no longer possesses the strength to mould the lives of its people on a large spiritual plane. Rural communities are no longer immune from modern evils. The grossest forms of sin are now found amid the most attractive rural surroundings. "Country slums" are no longer a curiosity but an alarming situation demanding immediate attention. Hundreds of rural churches are dead and other hundreds are dying. It is not because there is no want or desire for the services rural churches might render that so many are dead. It is because the right kind of leadership is not present. The largest single item in shaping the policy of the rural church is the minister. He comes as an evangelist and organizes the congregation. He is called to direct its workers in their efforts to bring "the kingdom of God among men." He is given full charge of the work. His time is his to be used as he directs. Seldom does his people question the use he makes of it. The people have confidence in him and trust him in all church matters. They usually pay him a larger salary than any member of his congregation receives, notwithstanding the great furor regarding the low salaries for ministers. The homes of the community are open to him. Every officer of the church has a right to look to him for help in directing the work of the church. How has he acted under such circumstances?

From a careful investigation of many cases it has been established that nearly every man who has accepted a call to a rural church does so only as a stepping stone to city work. He has been imbued with the idea that only beginners and broken down failures find a place in the rural service. He believes that the big men and the strong men always go ultimately to the city and that he will soon go. This idea results in sermons that smell of the roar and rush of the city. They are flowered with the city opportunity and its task. They are colored with the city needs and its sins. He sees no local observation except to preach some sermons that he expects to use later in his city church. He reads no books except those that deal with the city service. Ask him about the problems of his community and he will look at you as though you were a fool. Ask him if he has planned for the enlargement of the service his church renders the people and he smiles at your simplicity. The Great White Way of the city holds him enthralled and he does not know that many of the evils of the city are already transplanted in his own locality. With this attitude it is any wonder that his farmer folk grow hungry for spiritual food suited to their needs? They grow weary of being harrowed with the sins of the city while their boys and girls are going to the devil along the similar lanes. Is it any wonder they have turned away from the church and the rural minister? Then the minister, who has always regarded his charge as a mere stepping stone, and who has always had an eye and an ear open solely for the call to the city, begins to abuse them as being hardhearted, miserly and lacking in desire for the gospel.

They asked for bread and he has given them a stone. He has eaten their bread and used his strength to prepare for the city. Is it any wonder they have grown tired of this kind of minister? We have talked with hundreds of farmers in regard to this. They love God and yearn for the service the church could render. Many of them have told the writer, "Send us a man who loves our community and studies its possibilities and its needs; who will be sympathetic with us and see our faults and try to help us correct them, and we will furnish the money."

Where can you find a minister with ability to undertake this task? There are a few of them and they are doing good work. They receive good salaries and are doing a great service. Give us the right kind of ministers and thousands of rural churches now dead will be resurrected and other thousands now dying will be revived. The rural minister must be consecrated to his task and be willing to give his life for his people. And when that life is thus given, as Jesus said, "He will find it" and with it the life of the rural church.

Anglin to Give Greek Play in Greek Theater

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Sept. 4.—One of the noblest and most famous of Greek tragedies will be played in the Greek Theater of the University of California on the evening of next Saturday, September 6, by Margaret Anglin. This is the "Electra" of Sophocles.

This production of the "Electra" will add another to the traditions of great acting and great music which cluster about the University's famous open-air theater. Sarah Bernhardt has twice played there the "Phedre" of Racine; Marielne and Southern have played Macbeth; William H. Crane "She Stoops to Conquer." Maude Adams has appeared there twice, once in "As You Like It," and once in Rostand's "L'Aiglon," and Margaret every Friday afternoon, on "Great Books," are now frequented by such throngs of people that no lecture room in any of the University buildings will accommodate the crowds, and so the class is held in the Greek Theater. Now that these lectures are there, they can be thrown open both to the students and to the general public.

These various uses of the Greek Theater are a part of the work which the University is doing, through the University Extension department and other agencies, to throw its opportunities open to the use of the general community as well as of students regularly enrolled. Thus a score of courses are being given at the University this year, in the evening or late in the afternoon or on Saturdays, at hours when teachers, business men, and others employed throughout the day may have opportunity to participate. These opportunities have been greatly welcomed by the public, and such work is to receive much development hereafter.

Facts and Fiction

Experiences of Santa Ana Citizens Are Easily Proven to be Facts

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Santa Ana is true. Read it and compare evidence from Santa Ana people with testimony of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Santa Ana endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Martin O'Meara, 518 East First St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I have never used anything for kidney trouble so satisfactory as Doan's Kidney Pills. I had that complaint for a long time and the kidney secretions bothered me. The kidney secretions pained in passage and I had to void them during the night. Whenever I use Doan's Kidney Pills my back gets stronger and the trouble with the kidney secretions is corrected. I am thankful for the relief they have given me."

QUAKER CITY AIDS HER UNFORTUNATES

Provides Automobiles for Taking of Crippled Children to City Schools

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—Father Peck is some sort, according to the school children of Philadelphia today, when they saw for the first time two large automobiles similar to "rubber-neck wagons," with the words "Bureau of Education" on the body of the cars. The autos were built by a private concern which has the contract for conveying crippled children to and from school, an innovation that will be inaugurated at the coming school session. The cars have just been completed and will go into commission next month. This new phase of public school convenience is one of the results of the school course taken by a number of city officials and school heads this summer at the University of Wisconsin.

The system which is being tried probably is the first of its kind in the country. A motor car company has contracted to convey the physically disabled children to the schools in the morning and take them home in the afternoon. The Horace Binney School has been selected for the experiment and it proves successful other schools in widely separated sections will be given automobiles for their crippled scholars. Attendants will be on each car. Under the Pennsylvania school code, the board must provide an education for all children, and the school for cripples is the first of a number to be located in various sections of the city.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

FOURTH IS PUT INTO FIRST DISTRICT

Voters of Seventh and Eighth Precincts Get No Vote for Supervisor

MAGNOLIA ADDED TO THIRD DISTRICT

Number of Precinct Changes to be Made, Some of Which Are Indicated

Yesterday afternoon the Board of Supervisors decided to transfer the fourth ward of Santa Ana, comprising Precincts Santa Ana No. 7 and No. 8, from the fifth supervisorial district to the first supervisorial district, and to transfer the newly formed Magnolia precinct from the second district to the third district.

For a number of years the first supervisorial district has been composed of the first, second, third and fifth wards of Santa Ana, the fourth ward lying in the fifth supervisorial district. The reason given for the change is that there is a difference of interests between the city precincts and the country precincts in that the city precincts have no county roads to look after, and that the city precincts should be represented by one supervisor. By this change H. E. Smith becomes supervisor for the entire city of Santa Ana. Jasper Leck of Tustin is supervisor for the fifth district.

By this change the voters of the fourth ward will get no vote on supervisor in 1914. Supervisor Smith being a hold-over. Last year the ward got no vote on supervisor, Supervisor Leck then being a hold-over.

The new precinct of Magnolia was formed out of the portion of the town of Stanton recently excluded from the boundaries of that municipality by a vote of the people of the territory then within the city limits. Stanton was in Supervisor Talbert's district. The new precinct is placed in Supervisor Schumacher's district, the Magnolia boundary line lying but a short distance from where Schumacher lives in Buena Park.

At the meeting of the supervisors yesterday, a communication was read from the county clerk containing a list of the precincts of the county the voting strength of which at the last election was beyond the 200 mark. Under the state law precincts voting over 200 must have their boundaries changed for convenience in elections.

Just what disposition will be made in many of the precincts has not been decided upon. The board yesterday indicated that Yurba Linda will be made into a precinct, the territory to be cut from Olinda precinct, and that Cypress will get a precinct with territory cut from Buena Park precinct. Fullerton will get an additional precinct, giving that city four, and Huntington Beach will be cut into two precincts.

Bids Are Rejected
The board yesterday rejected all bids received for the erection of the county hospital at West Orange. The low bid was about $40,000, but the bidders, a Los Angeles firm, failed to put in a legal bid by reason of having failed to accompany the bid with a certified check in accordance with the call for bids. This is the second set of bids received and rejected. The board ordered new bids called for, to be opened on Sept. 16. It was decided to alter the plans and specifications in accordance with suggestions made by the State Board of Charities and Corrections.

ange, owner of the southwest corner of Main and Chapman streets, agreed to accept $300 for a right-of-way desired by the State Highway Commission. The commission wants to make a curve in the roadway at that point rather than to accept a right-angle turn. Northcross stated to the board that he did not care to sell the land at all. About one-fifth of an acre is to be taken by the right-of-way strip. The County Highway Commission was given instructions to surmise the West Fifth street bridge with macadam.

Bonds Continued
After discussing the proposal to have the county buy the $50,000 bonds of the Tustin school district, the matter was continued to Oct. 8. The board hopes that by that time the money market will be such that the bond-buyers of Los Angeles will take the bonds.

The board adjourned to Sept. 16.

ESCONDIDO GRAPE DAY IS SEPT. 9TH

ESCONDIDO, Sept. 4.—This little city claims distinction from all of California in one respect only and that is for its unique annual holiday, Grape Day, September 9th, which for years has been held with increasing success. Reorganized recently with W. E. Alexander re-elected president for the fifth time, the Grape Day Association is now preparing to entertain the thousands of visitors who annually come on this date. Admission Day, and the entertainment this year will eclipse all others. A Queen of Grape Day is being chosen in a friendly voting contest and the festivities will be novel through the ceremonies incident to the crowning of the lady who is elected queen.

As in other years, ten tons of pre-cooled grapes will be given away to the visitors, who may have all they can eat and a box to carry away. Sports and amusements of all kinds will amuse the crowd. A band of real Indians will give one of the old tribal war dances in full paint and feathers.

Hotels, restaurants and church organizations will provide food for the thousands. The Santa Fe has ordered special trains from Los Angeles and San Diego and low rates have been allowed.

THIEVES HAVE LONGEST FEET
PARIS, Sept. 4.—Thieves have the longest feet, with incendiaries running them a close second, of all classes of French criminals, declares Dr. Charles Perrier, police surgeon at Nimes, in a report published today. Dr. Perrier bases his conclusions on an investigation covering a period of ten years. Next to incendiaries, counterfeiters have the longest feet, says Dr. Perrier, with tramps, swindlers and poisoners next in that order.

THE RANCHERS WON THE GAME

The Deciding Game of Series is Going to be Played This Afternoon

(By Staff Correspondent.)
ORANGE, Sept. 4.—The third and final game of an exciting series of baseball games between the business men and ranchers was played off at the high school grounds this afternoon. The series stood a tie until today's game. The business men triumphed over the rural athletes in the first game and the latter came back strong in the second, beating their adversaries by a close score. Intense interest centered in the deciding game today.

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Huffman of Plainfield, Ill., are visiting here with the former's sister, Mrs. D. M. Peters and family. They motored to Balboa today.

Announcement has been made of the opening of the German Lutheran parochial school which will be held Monday, Sept. 8.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Willets motored to Whittier to spend today.

Howard O. Williams of Long Beach was in Orange on business yesterday. The band concert given by the Orange City Band was heard by a good-sized and most appreciative audience in the plaza last evening. The work of the band boys seems to improve with each appearance and the programs are growing in favor with the public.

Mrs. John Whaley and Miss Katherine McIntosh of Los Angeles have returned home after a short visit here with friends.

The opening of the Orange Union High School has been postponed from Sept. 8 to Sept. 15.

Miss Marjorie Rogerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rogerson of Villa Park, who has been visiting at home during this summer, left this morning for San Francisco, where she will attend a school to prepare for missionary work.

Frank Purviance left yesterday for Mesa, Ariz., for an indefinite stay. His father, J. A. Purviance, and brother Harold took him as far as Los Angeles by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanders and family, of Hemet, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sanders, on North Grand street.

M. M. Fishback of the high school faculty, has returned from Marshall, Ill., where he has been spending his summer vacation.

Mrs. W. B. Wood and son, William, of South Pasadena, have been visiting at the A. B. Tiffany home at the County Park since Sunday. They left for their home yesterday afternoon, taking Mrs. Tiffany with them for a short visit.

Mrs. A. Ralph and daughter, Miss Agnes Ralph, have returned from a short visit at Newport Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Palmer are entertaining Mr. Palmer's brother, Arthur J. Palmer and family, of Los Angeles, for a few days.

The Modern Priscillas met with the president, Mrs. Blanche Porter, yesterday afternoon and enjoyed a pleasant meeting. After a business session refreshments of chicken, sandwiches, olives and ice tea were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the Thomson Lodge, and the members will be entertained by Edith Thomson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Porter of South Center street, who have been spending the last week at Bishop, returned home last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George King, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Frank E. Pister and Miss Eva Fearnie formed an automobile party to Trabuco canyon to spend today.

Mrs. S. Skelton and family are moving from the town residence on North Grand street to Los Angeles, where they expect to locate.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Cole left yesterday morning for Hesperia to spend a couple of weeks with their son.

AMUSEMENTS

Auditorium Theater

The Bentons, electrical wizards, the greatest high voltage electricians on the American stage today. With them is Miss Benton, the woman who allows 100,000 volts of electricity to pass into her body and yet lives. This is seventy-five times the amount used at Sing Sing and other prisons, for the electrocution of condemned prisoners.

The Bentons perform a number of thrilling feats, using their bodies as living electric light wires, lighting lamps and vacuum tubes, are lights, etc., by passing the current through themselves. They allow their bodies to be charged with enough electricity to be able to light cigars, cigarettes, and pieces of paper from sparks taken from any part of their bodies. The manner and absolute indifference with which these people handle high voltage electricity is little short of marvelous. They perform feats with this deadly current as though it were as harmless as a baby. There is scarcely a day passes that the papers do not tell of some person being electrocuted by coming into contact with wires carrying considerably less voltage than what is used by the Bentons, in their demonstrations.

IS GROWING IN ITS INTENSITY

Revival at Anaheim Draws Large Crowds—Cities Send Visiting Delegations

ANAHEIM, Sept. 4.—Interest in the Brown and Garth special meetings seems to be growing. Each day that the evangelist remains the attendance increases, especially from the neighboring cities. Night before last Orange came over 125 strong. They occupied one section of the tent which had been reserved for them. As they marched in their leader, Rev. Jackson, carried a large placard bearing the words, "Orange Is With You." This created much enthusiasm and applause.

Last night a large delegation from Fullerton, to the number of 200, appeared just as Mr. Brown started his sermon. Mr. Brown stopped and said "Let's sing a song while our good Fullerton friends are securing seats." When they entered they also carried an immense placard that said, "Fullerton Is Behind You, Pushing." A special feature connected with their entrance was a procession formed by Fullerton, as the Anaheim people sang "Anaheim for Christ." Mr. Lewis of Fullerton sang an impressive solo, "Will You Believe?"

Mr. Brown expected to leave tomorrow but he will remain until Sunday night as the interest in the anti-saloon campaign is growing rapidly. The Concordia Society of Anaheim has denounced the presence of the Evangelist in this city and has published a statement to that effect.

A Pioneer

Mrs. L. A. Harris of Orange celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday yesterday in Anaheim at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. H. C. Inskeep, 223 Kesh street. A birthday dinner was enjoyed at noon, the young hostess having prepared a four-course dinner. Mrs. Harris' health is good considering her age and she made the trip from Orange and through the La Habra valley in an auto without experiencing fatigue. Mrs. Harris was one of the pioneers of Southern California and is the mother of J. Wiley, McClymonds, general agent of the Pacific Fruit Express Company at San Francisco, who was in Los Angeles yesterday.

Burglary

The office of the Ganahl Lumber Company was entered by thieves last night, entrance being gained by forcing a rear door. Only some small change out of the cash drawer was secured.

Triple Funeral
The funeral of the three children that were burned occurred yesterday afternoon from Backs & Terry's undertaking parlors. The two little Redman boys were buried in a double casket.

GAIN SHOWN FOR DECIDUOUS FRUIT

California Crop This Season Will Beat Last Year's by 300 Carloads

Los Angeles Tribune: California's deciduous fruit crop this year will reach the grand total of 6500 carloads, a gain of 300 cars over last year. This is the estimate of J. W. McClymonds, general agent of the Pacific Fruit Express Company at San Francisco, who was in Los Angeles yesterday.

"This year's fruit is of especially fine flavor and beauty of appearance," said Mr. McClymonds. "The crop of 1913 shows an increased production of about 300 carloads over 1912." The first crop to be moved was the cherry crop, which was started in May. Apricots have been shipped for the most part. Peaches, pears, grapes and plums are still moving. Apples will begin to travel to market soon and most of them will be eaten in California and adjoining states.

ORANGE CITY HALL IS GOING TO MOVE

Orange News: The city clerk was instructed last evening to notify the owner of the Jora building that the city will vacate its rooms in the building at the first of next month. The city hall will be moved to the Ehlen & Grote building and will occupy the room facing on the plaza, until recently occupied by the Wedge cleaning establishment.

The rent for the new location is $30 per month. The city has been paying $20 at the Jora building, which rental gave the use of the hall upstairs. The city, however, used that hall very little, an occasional record case being tried there. The hall was relinquished several months ago, since which time the city has been paying $25 per month for the first floor room occupied by the clerk.

Licensed to Wed
A marriage license was issued in Los Angeles yesterday to Earl M. Galbraith, 27, of Santa Ana, and Lettice E. Myers, 21, of Long Beach.

OPENING DATE POSTPONED UNTIL SEPTEMBER 15TH

Orange News: The opening of high school has been postponed from September 8th to September 15th, owing to the fact that the new buildings will not be in condition for the opening of school on September 8th.

While practically all the inside finishing work in both new buildings has been completed and part of the furniture is on hand, the cement walks and steps to the entrances will not be completed by the date of opening previously announced, and in consequence the opening has been postponed.

Registration of students, however, will continue Thursday and Friday of this week, as previously announced. Mr. Fishback, the principal, stated today that registration should be filed at previously announced, and that no registration days will be provided for next week.

TURKEY LAUNCHES ONE OF WORLD'S GREATEST SHIPS

BARROW-IN-FURNESS, Eng., Sept. 4.—One of the most formidable battle-ships in the world, the Reshad Hamis, was launched here yesterday as the first unit in the rejuvenated Turkish navy. She displaces over 23,000 tons and possesses an armament of ten 13.5-inch guns, thus exceeding in gun power any vessel in commission in the British navy. Her contract calls for a speed of twenty-one knots an hour and her turbine engines develop 31,000 horsepower.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE FOR CIVIC CENTER

The use of school houses as meeting places by residents of the districts and communities for public discussion of political and other questions is provided for in an act of the recent legislature.

The law reads: "There is hereby established a civic center at each and every public school house within the state of California, where the citizens of the respective districts may engage in recreational activities, and where they may meet and discuss any and all subjects and questions which in their judgment may appertain to the educational, political, economic, artistic and moral interests of the citizens of the respective communities."

There must be no interference with the school work, but aside from that the school houses shall be free and open to district residents. Lighting, heating, janitor service and the services of a special supervising officer, when needed, shall be provided for out of the school funds. In cases of entertainments where admission fees are charged, a charge may be made by the board of education or trustees.

The board of education or board of trustees shall be in control of the civic center and may make needful rules and regulations. The special supervising officer may be appointed to preserve order and protect the school property.

The law was passed as a result of the many urgent appeals that have been made, particularly by Theodore Roosevelt, in behalf of the development of community life. The school house will probably become a political meeting place in the cities much as it is now used in the country districts.

The expense of hiring halls is always a problem and free use of the school houses will serve greatly, it is hoped, to promote public discussion and consideration and keep the people in more intimate touch with public affairs.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON LETTER

By Burton K. Standish.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—"Pitchfork Ben" Tillman has joined the "come backs." The aged South Carolina solon, whose picturesque language and vitriolic power of invective earned him his nickname, has been in poor health for four years. He hasn't once during that time shown flashes of his old-time vigor in debate.

But the other day, "Pitchfork Ben" got loose again. He equaled all past records for vivid language in speaking his little say on woman suffrage and comparing the present times to the days of decadent Rome.

"It appears to me," the senator remarked, "that the relation between 'votes for women' and divorce, if not of cause and effect, is at least one of mutual acceleration. I am no pessimist, but I am enough of a scientist to accept the truth whenever I find it, be it pleasant or unpleasant, and I have read history to no purpose if it has not taught me that the purity and stability of the family has in all ages been the surest bulwark of the state. It has even been that when the marriage relation became insecure and women quitted their own sphere to enter that of man, the decay and fall of states followed."

"A most disgraceful and mortifying fact which every American must blush for is to see how the American millionaires are buying their daughters titled husbands. Some count, baron or lord, no matter how much a debauchee and scoundrel he may be, is looked up by the rich father and purchased in the open market."

"To me such people seem to be going straight to hell, and I am no stickler for religion." Some speech.

Once a session house Democrats and Republicans carry their partisan fight to the baseball diamond. The game furnishes Washington newspaper paragraphs with plenty of material for weeks. Now comes the announcement from the senate that the staid and elderly statesmen have challenged the juniors in the house to a golf championship match. The senate already has a flourishing golf club, and the beauty about it is that there are titles for every member. Senator Gallinger, who never had a golf stick in his hand, is honorary vice-president

Vice-President Marshall, who has actually played two games of golf, is honorary president. However, there are some honest to goodness golfers in the club. There is Senator O'Gorman of New York, president; Senator Cummins of Iowa, ranked as the senate champion; Hollis, New Hampshire; Hitchcock, Nebraska; Lippitt, Rhode Island; Salsbury, Delaware; Pittman, Nevada; Bristow, Kansas; Townsend, Michigan; Walsh, Montana; and Ransdell of Louisiana.

The only representative whom the senators fear in their forthcoming match is Representative Oglesby of New York, who covered the 18 holes on the difficult Chevy Chase links in 77, which is mighty close to bogey.

"We haven't set the date for the match yet," said Senator Salsbury, "but it's up to the house."

At least one member of the senate of the United States has confessed his misdeeds. His name is Page. He comes from Vermont. He stood on the senate floor on the afternoon when the sugar tariff schedule was being disposed of and pleaded for a little more protection for the maple sugar of his state.

"I plead guilty," he said hesitatingly, "to having been an insidious lobbyist for the past five years, and now it all goes for naught."

Democratic and Republican member alike nodded solemnly. Then one by one they chuckled. For scarcely a man among them had not accepted from Page of Vermont, along in March of any one of these past five seasons of "sugaring-off" a box of the finest maple sugar that ever reached the capital. Each box was packed full of half-ounce cakes separately wrapped, and on the cover was a picture of the old-fashioned hobsled drawn by a yoke of steers, waiting beside a big maple tree in the woods. It was a lobby gift that reached the spot.

Senator Williams for the Democrats tried to explain why maple sugar did not need governmental bounty, but he had been caught in Page's net along with the others, and the best he would do was set the senate laughing. Page lost his stuff argument by a margin of only two votes—the closest roll call yet had on the bill.

Sporting Briefs of the Week

[By Hal Sheridan]

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Right in the shadow of the scramble in the Eastern division of the American and National League pennant races a little looking around reveals another tussle of considerable note, and today we beg to introduce the International League.

Edward Barrows, president of the organization, was one of the hardest fighters for the AA classification which was finally granted the American Association and International and Pacific Coast Leagues. This has been a big year for the International and the various owners report much money as having trickled into the strong boxes.

But leaving behind the question of finances and getting into the pennant race Newark is picked to finish in the lead. Rochester and Baltimore have galloped along strong and fought each other off in second and third position during a big part of the season, but failed also showed in fair shape, with Montreal, Providence, Toronto and Jersey City battling along as best they could.

Toronto was a big disappointment. They won the pennant up at Toronto last year, but after getting off to a bad start, trouble struck out on their trail with leaps and bounds. At one time this season Toronto had eight players laid up with injuries, which might be taken as more or less discouraging.

And while mentioning this Canadian community, it might be added that they know a lot more in Toronto and Montreal about baseball than do the English brothers across the pond. The Canadians have graduated from cricket to our own national pastime. If you want statistics, 21,000 persons were packed into the Toronto ball park for the opening game this season. Montreal is also one of the leading towns for attendance, which says something for the drawing power of baseball and makes it the real American pastime.

Baltimore heads the International League in having shaken down the biggest pile of money from the majors during the season. They disposed of Third Baseman Malsb to the New York Yankees, getting $12,000 cash.

with Third Baseman Midkiff and Outfielder Daniels. The Boston Nationals got Lord from Baltimore in May, and grabbed off Leslie Mann from Buffalo.

Outfielder Bauman of Detroit came from Providence, and Umpire Quigley, now calling balls and strikes in the National League, was picked from the International League during the middle of the summer. Tracing Quigley back to the point of discovery, it is also learned that he is an expert mathematician. He started out with that outlook on life at any rate, and if there is any argument he might be able to prove it put to the test, whether a ball out the plate by working it out with curves and angles.

All of the promising material hasn't been picked in this thriving league yet. Scouts from most of the major league teams have looked over Truesdale, Buffalo's second baseman, and Gilhooley, Montreal's center-fielder. The wise ones predict a wild scramble for these two players and they are considered certain of advancing into fast company. Every team in the league has two or three players which the home fans expect to see taken away from the home lot and thrown into the midst of the strife of the big cities.

Baltimore besides having already given up Malsb, has Darnforth, a pitcher, and Cooper, outfielder, who are looked upon as big league material. Besides Truesdale, Buffalo has Roach, a short-stop and pitcher Wain. Jersey City exhibits Purtell, a rising third-sacker, and McHale, a pitcher. In addition to Gilhooley, Montreal presents catcher Burns and Right-fielder Allen. Newark fans are afraid they are going to lose Second-baseman Getz and First-baseman Swacena.

Brooklyn has already picked up Atchison, a pitcher, for delivery in September. Jumping into Providence, Platte, a right-fielder; Deal, third base, and Reisel, pitcher, are the most likely looking. Rochester has Schmidt, a first-baseman, and Martin, short-stop, who are considered about ripe for the majors, and Toronto offers Schultz, center-fielder, and Hearne, pitcher, for inspection. Out of that bunch somebody will build a ball team.

E. M. Nealley Discusses Theological Question

Editor Register:—I haven't the slightest intention of starting a theological argument with the preachers or any one else—life is too short. But I seem to me that the sermon preached at the union service in the Congregational church on last Tuesday evening, and reported in "Tuesday Register," justifies a few remarks as to the theological tendencies of the present time.

By way of introduction the preacher of the evening said: "I am thoroughly convinced that one of the needs of the church is more doctrinal preaching. Now the doctrine which I am to discuss is written in the creed of every Protestant evangelical church in the world, so far as my knowledge goes, I am sure it is a distinct doctrine of every church, represented in these union services."

The preacher clearly intended his hearers to carry away the impression that the doctrines of the old creeds still hold undisputed sway in every evangelical church throughout the world. But do they? I am aware that any attempt to criticize the orthodox creed will be interpreted by a certain type of mind as an "attack on religion," for that type of mind has never shown itself capable of distinguishing between religion and a life of immediate contact with the Divine, and theology as an intellectual formulation of religious experience. Orthodoxy and religion are identified, and what is not orthodox is "infidelity," and infidelity is of the devil,—and that settles it! This procedure conveniently obviates the necessity of seriously reckoning with any thing new that may appear in religious thinking.

I have just been reading a book by Dr. Washington Gladden, fresh from the press, entitled "Present Day Theology." Dr. Gladden as author, and as pastor of the First Congregational church, of Columbus, Ohio, has an international reputation, and is spoken of by Congregationalists everywhere as the "Grand Old Man" of their denomination. His new book consists of a series of mid-week addresses to his own congregation. Here are some extracts from the book:

"Our preachers in past generations, were in the habit of preaching courses of doctrinal sermons quite frequently, going over the same ground again and again, and trying to get their people, as they used to say, 'thoroughly indoctrinated.' These doctrinal sermons represented the freshest and best thought of their day; it was in harmony with such knowledge of the universe and its laws as they had. It is NOT the thought of THIS day, and it is NOT in harmony with our knowledge. When these subjects are presented in the form in which they were presented fifty years ago they fail to produce conviction in the minds of men; they cannot be believed."

"What right has any minister of the gospel to send out young men and women from his church into the world in such a benighted condition liable to be wrecked in their religious thinking as soon as they come in contact with the living and constructive thought of their generation?"

These are the words of one of the acknowledged leaders in religious thought and activity today in one of the evangelical denominations. But there are scores of other men, equally as prominent, saying the same things. There is President King of Oberlin. Read his book on "Theological Reconstruction." Read "The Christian Conception of God" by the late Prof. William Newton Clarke. Prof. Clarke was a good Baptist, and this book represents perhaps the finest constructive work along the newer lines which has ever been written. Read the works of Prof. Bowen of Boston University. He was a Methodist in good standing. Read Prof. Nash's "The Higher Criticism of the New Testament." Prof. Nash was connected with the Episcopal Theological seminary at Cambridge. Such names might be multiplied by the score, of men who are leading the way today along the lines of a reconstructed theology in harmony with the knowledge of the twentieth century. The leading theological seminaries of the north are teaching the newer views and methods, Episcopal, Methodist, Baptist, and ALL the Congregational schools. I have been looking up this matter and have letters in my possession in support of this statement. I have a letter from Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of San Francisco, in reply to an inquiry in which he says: "It is my personal opinion that in the most of the Methodist Episcopal Seminaries throughout the country the modern view of the Scriptures is being taught."

In 1908 delegates representing thirty of the leading denominations of this country met in a great convention and organized "The Federal Council," for co-operation in certain lines of practical work. The president of the Federal Council at the present time is Prof. Shailer Mathews, Dean of the Divinity School of Chicago University. Prof. Mathews is an avowed exponent of the new theology, and was known to be such when he was elected by the delegates. And he is a Baptist in good standing. If there is any person who might be entitled to be called the official head of the evangelical churches in this country it is the president of this council. And President Mathews is an avowed "higher critic" and believes in evolution! And the delegates who put him into this office knew it for the time.

Prof. Mathews has published a book, entitled "The Church and the Changing Order." Here are a few extracts: "The struggle between traditional theology and science really exists, and the relation of the church to these recent tendencies cannot be overlooked."

"The church today is living in the midst of the most extraordinary intellectual transition that the world has ever seen. The teacher of religion can stand aloof from the reconstruction which the new science and the new philosophy are determining only by standing apart from the world itself." "Over against this tremendous revolution stands traditional dogma with a new theory of the universe and a psychology and a philosophy derived from the Hebrews, the Greeks, the Romans, and the Alexandrians. It is little wonder that the world of scholarship finds itself increasingly out of sympathy with the church as the representative of such teachings."

"Thought, like business, is a creature of new methods. We have a new psychology, a new metaphysics, a new biology, a new sociology. It is inevitable that there should be a call for a new theology."

One more quotation from a man nearer home. Rev. Morris Turk, co-pastor with Dr. Day of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, summed up the situation in a sermon reported in the Tribune of July 28th, as follows:

"From the days of the Pharisees until now the religious standpoint has been the greatest foe of moral and spiritual progress. Whether in business, politics, education, or religion the standpoint is a stumbling block and handicap. He is worse than a dead weight upon the uplifting social order; he is the enemy of all better days, the Judas of all human progress."

My purpose in presenting this material is merely to call attention to certain thought streams and tendencies within the evangelical churches today, which some of our clergymen are apparently overlooking. The men who are saying these things are not "infidels," they are prophets with a new vision of a human order moulded into the divine as the fulfillment of the teachings of Jesus; men who believe that religious experience is a living thing and that all living things are growing things, and can never be confined with the inflexible moulds of the past. Jesus was put to death because he was a heretic in the eyes of the orthodoxy of his day.

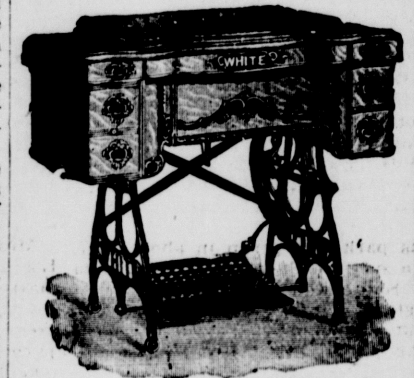

Martin Luther, Melancthon, John Calvin, even John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, refused to accept the Copernican system of astronomy, because it was "unscriptural." And they were right. The Bible clearly teaches the Hebrew and Ptolemaic conception of the heavens. In the same way, the orthodoxy of today insists that the doctrine of the evolutionary origin of the world and of man is "unscriptural." And so it is. Genesis does not teach the evolutionary theory. But neither does it teach Copernican astronomy. But what of it? When will some of us learn that the Bible was never intended to serve as a text book on modern science? The same spirit, the same intellectual attitude and narrow outlook that for two hundred years and more resisted the adoption of the modern astronomy and the scientific conception of law, is still with us in many of our pulpits, fighting evolution, modern psychology and the methods of historical investigation. It is still "unscriptural" for a man to think except in terms appropriate to the Medieval saint! Oh Lord, how long!

HELPING HAND SOCIETY

Ladies Met at Maryatt Home; Told of Experiences in Raising Fund for New Church

The spacious lawn of Mrs. Maryatt, 331 East Chestnut street, presented a festive appearance yesterday afternoon, being the scene of the monthly meeting of the Helping Hand Society of the First Baptist Church. Needless to say, the ladies were in high spirits, and the meeting was a most successful one. The fund for the new church building is being raised by the sale of raffle tickets, and the ladies are doing very well. The meeting was held in the afternoon, and the ladies were very much interested in the story and rhyme which the money for the new church fund had been earned. Many were the methods told of, some of the ladies canning fruit, others baking cake or using the needle to swell the fund for the new edifice, all being amusing and interesting to the sixty members and visitors present. Delicious sherbet and home-made cake were served at the close of a profitable meeting.

Bruce Dill at Stanford

The large circle of friends of Bruce Dill, the former Santa Ana who figured so largely in the football championship team put in the field last year by Occidental College, will be interested in knowing that he is registered in the chemistry department of Stanford University. He will not be able to participate in Stanford's football activities this year owing to the rule against transfers in the universities, but he will join in the fall Rugby practice, that he may become sufficiently familiar with the English game to coach for a short time after his graduation this year.

Sewing Party

Miss Hazel Rowley entertained delightfully yesterday afternoon with the second of the pretty afternoon events she is giving in a series of three. The house and lawn, the latter spot being the real scene of the afternoon's entertaining, were decorated with sunflowers in brown baskets, wild brown grasses being used with the sunflowers. The yellow and brown color scheme was carried out in the accessories to the various games and in the refreshments.

Sewing on pretty needlework was the principal feature of the afternoon, was chosen for the progressive game, afforded pleasing diversion. Each guest was given a string of yellow flowers attached to ribbon of the same color and for each flower a partner was chosen for the progressive game. A package accompanied the string of flowers and this was exchanged with each succeeding partner, each girl keeping the package in her possession at the last table. When opened each package was found to contain something pertaining to needlework, such as a thimble or similar article. A rhyme accompanied the souvenirs and these were read to the company.

Yellow fruitade was served throughout the afternoon, and delicious lemonade of yellow tint with chocolate center was served in sunflower cups with brown and yellow cake, all being in keeping with the decorative tints. Taylor's catered for the event.

Miss Rowley's guests included the following: Mrs. Herbert Rankin, Mrs. Ben Blee, Mrs. Tracy Frasier; Misses Clara Wells, Velma Sturgeon, Zoe Vanderlip, Freda Moesser, Rena Stafford, Adeline Hill, Nancy Elder, Carrie Elder, Margery Beard, Edith Wells, Virgil Potts, Nellie Bacon, Hazel Stockslager, Alice Wassner, Irene Peckham, Nettie Ninniger, Opal Baker, Alleen Tubbs, Lila Rittner, Grace Wells, Christine Schenk, Frances Shrewsbury, Evalina Nunn.

Missionary Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon in the church parlors, where a very interesting program was enjoyed. Beautiful bouquets of roses were used in the decorations.

DISTINGUISHED RELATIVE

Miss Mary Taylor of Edge wood Road has kindly loaned to this office a copy of the Advertiser, published at Kentsville, Nova Scotia, in which the arrival in Montreal of M. Fernand Lahori, batonnier of the Paris (France) bar, with his wife and daughters, is chronicled. The wife of the distinguished Frenchman is a widely known musician and composer of France, and is a cousin of Miss Taylor and her brother, C. D. Taylor, and Mrs. Darling of Santa Ana. Madame Lahori was born an Okey, of Irish parents.

In an interview given by Maitre Lahori, who came to Canada to attend the meeting of the American Bar Association now being held in Montreal, and to the presidency of which former President Taft was yesterday elected, gave some interesting information concerning Capt. Albert Dreyfus, the famous prisoner of Devil's Island, whose second successful trial made M. Lahori famous the world over. M. Lahori said that Dreyfus, who was restored to his military commission, is now a colonel and will soon be made a general.

Mrs. Samson, the president, presided over the meeting, and Mrs. L. Warren led the devotional service. The subject of Freedmen and Indians was one in which all are interested as it is the special home mission work of this church.

Mrs. Helen Henderson, one of the oldest and most enthusiastic missionary workers of the society, read a most interesting paper on "Fifty Years From Slavery," in which she spoke of some incidents happening when she was a small girl in those trying times of war, and also outlined the progress of the negro since the war.

Miss Rosaline Kellogg read a paper on "Our Freedmen's School." Are the Freedmen Contributing to the Support of their churches and Schools?

Miss Minnie Cowan read a paper on the subject of the Indians. The theme of the paper was: "Does our church provide the necessary equipment for our work among the Indians at Tama, Iowa, Simasho, and Warm Springs, Oregon?"

The time for the closing of the calling contest that has been on for some time, is drawing near, and it is necessary for every member to make as many calls as possible. The time limit is Oct. 1, when the losing side will have to in some way entertain the other side, and both captains, Miss Sarah Finley and Mrs. Harry Dean, are sure of winning. These calls have added a great deal to the social part of the church work.

The hostesses for the day were Mrs. C. C. Collins, Mrs. Harry Dean, Mrs. D. L. Anderson and Mrs. J. H. H. At the close of the program the hostess asked each one to secure a partner and proceed to the Baraca room, where delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by Misses Helen Anderson, Mary Collins and Dorothy Dean. The room was decorated in sunflowers. The color scheme of brown and yellow was also carried out in the refreshments. Every person present greatly enjoyed the pretty decorations and the social hour.

Ladies Aid to Meet
The first meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church after the summer vacation will be held tomorrow afternoon at the church.

It is urged by those having the meeting in charge that all the members of the society be present. The new members are especially urged to join in this first meeting of the new season.

Galbraith-Myers

The many friends of Earl M. Galbraith, the popular bookkeeper for the Pendleton Mill and Lumber Company, will be pleasantly surprised to know that he became a benedict today. His bride is Miss Lettice E. Myers of Long Beach, and the wedding took place at 10 o'clock today at the Methodist church, South, parsonage in the seaside city.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Galbraith, parents of the groom, went over to Long Beach this morning to attend the wedding.

The young couple left for an unrevealed destination shortly after the ceremony and will enjoy a honeymoon trip of probably a week's duration, after which they will come to Santa Ana, where they will reside. Their arrival here will be eagerly looked forward to by the friends of the groom, who will be glad to welcome the bride, who is unacquainted here, and to extend their congratulations.

Cooked Food Sale

The Epworth League of the First Methodist church will conduct a cooked food sale at the grocery store of Hill & Blauer on next Saturday. The sale will open at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and will continue through the day. There will be salads, meat loaves, cakes, pies, and various other homemade delicacies for sale.

Will Entertain Fraternal Visitors

The local Odd Fellows are expecting company from Los Angeles tonight and are preparing to give them a cordial welcome. The visitors will be members of America Lodge 1, O. O. F. of the Angel City, the men coming down in a body to put on the floor work of the first degree. Various festive features have been arranged for the evening.

Daughters of Veterans Tea

A successful tea under the auspices of the Daughters of Veterans was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Esther Patterson, 212 Orange avenue. Ice cream and other delicacies were served.

A Picnic in Birch Park

The Mizpah Sunday school class of the Congregational church held a picnic in Birch Park and later attended the band concert.

The class includes in its membership Elizabeth Roy, Olive Brown, Carol Shaw, Christine Watson, Helen Harzett, Gladys Young, Helen White, Gertrude Carnahan and Florence Carter, with Mrs. Tedford the teacher. Before supper the class explored the park and found out the following facts:

This park was given in about 1897, to the city of Santa Ana, by Emma Birch Smith and Otis Birch; its area consists of 250 feet square, that is one regular city block. It was improved by the city shortly after it was acquired.

The party was hoping to find the names on the trees but the commissioners have not placed them yet. There is a fine cork tree, an Australian paper tree and one rare palm tree that the Los Angeles park people offered to pay $100 for, but it was not sold.

The picnicers found twenty kinds of trees and thirty kinds of flowers that they knew the names of. The caretaker of the park is Mr. Ed. Halesworth, who does a wonderful amount of work and who is a real lover of flowers and rare plants. The park commissioners are Mrs. Getty, Mrs. Padgham, Mrs. Hull, Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Rankin. Two tables with seats have been installed for picnic parties. The park with its cool shade, lovely flowers and trees looked good to this group of girls who thoroughly enjoyed the concert as well as the park.

For Mrs. Foster

Mrs. E. K. Foster, mother of Mrs. R. J. Hamilton, who has been prominent in church and social circles since her arrival here within the last two years, and will soon go East to spend the winter and possibly longer with a daughter in Indianapolis, was the guest of honor at a farewell dinner party given for her on Tuesday night by Mrs. A. C. Black at her West Fourth street home.

A prettily appointed dinner was served at 7 o'clock in four courses. The centerpiece was a brown basket filled with fragrant pink carnations, a fluffy pink tulle bow adorning the handle of the basket. The place cards were of Japanese design and were daintily hand painted. Covers were laid for twelve.

The evening following the dinner was spent socially, the only thing of sorrow marring the pleasant hours being the realization that Mrs. Foster is soon to leave Santa Ana. Her influence in the organizations with which she has been connected has been strong and uplifting, while her social qualities have won her a large circle of friends and well wishers who will greatly miss her during her absence in the East.

ANTIQUARY'S SHARP TRICK

Bought Painting of Poor Woman for 20 Cents—Tries to Sell it for $1354 Next Day

MADRID, Sept. 4.—In an antiquary's shop window there was exhibited a painting yesterday and a sign reading: "Authentic picture of Goya, 7000 pesetas ($1354)." A poor woman passing by observed the sign and at once caused a disturbance which attracted a big crowd. She declared that the antiquary, who now wants to sell the picture at so great a price, yesterday bought it from her for twenty cents.

EMERSON'S FAILING MEMORY.

He Was Conscious of It, but His Amiability Never Wavered.

I had as a fellow guest a man who had long been intimate with Emerson and whom the poet was very glad to see. Talking with me after tea in the library, Emerson said:

"I want to tell you about a friend in Germany. His name I cannot remember," and he moved to and fro uneasily in his effort to recall it. "This friend with whom we have taken tea tonight, whose name also I cannot remember"—here again came a distressed look at the failure of his faculty—"I cannot remember his name either, but he can tell you of this German friend whose name I have also forgotten."

It was a sorrow to see the breaking down of a great spirit and his agitation as he was conscious of his waning power. And yet, so far as I could see, it was only the memory that was going. The intellectual strength was still apparent and the amiability of his spirit was perhaps even more manifest than in the years when he was in the full possession of himself.

This came out in little things. He was overanxious at the table lest the hospitality should come short, troubled about the supply of butter and apple sauce, and soon after I saw him on his knees on the hearth taking care that the fire should catch the wood to abate the evening coolness that was gathering in the room.—From "The Last Leaf," by J. K. Hosmer.

UNCONSCIOUS OF FAME.

Grote, the Famous Historian, Was a Man of Great Simplicity.

George Grote, the famous author of the "History of Greece," long the standard on that subject, was a man of great simplicity and was wholly unconscious of his own celebrity. Several anecdotes illustrative of this fact are given in "Some Famous Women of Wit and Beauty," one of whom is Mrs. Grote.

While Mr. Grote was walking in the park he would perhaps notice that one or two persons looked at him with some attention. He would at once turn to his wife in alarm.

"Have I got any dirt on my face, Harriet? Is there anything the matter with my hat?" and he would clutch his headgear with both hands. "Why are those people looking at me?"

Mrs. Grote's proud answer was, "Because you are George Grote, that's all!"

Once when he was on a visit to Cambridge Grote wished to see the professor of natural history, but was told that the professor was so busy dissecting something that he could not be interrupted. "Strong magnifying power, powerful light, shirt sleeves up, cannot be bothered with anybody." The modest historian would have retired, but his wife persisted that it was Mr. Grote who wished to see the professor.

"What?" he cried. "Mr. Grote? Give me my coat. I must wash my hands." In a minute he had transformed himself and would not let them go for two hours.

Animals Don't Need Eyes.

Animals do not depend upon their eyesight in the same way as human beings. Cats and dogs could get along very well without eyes. A cat can find her way with the aid of her whiskers. These are the same width as her body and connected with nerves which cause her to feel the slightest touch.

Dogs can be entirely guided by their sense of smell. Blind dogs have been known to scent and find their way to the most inaccessible places. Their hearing is also preternaturally sharp.

Rats can see very little and depend chiefly upon their noses, muscles, touch and hearing. In the case of most animals the senses of smell and touch are more highly developed than that of sight, and they do not require to depend upon their sight nearly as much as do human beings in regard to safety.—London Globe.

His Willing Tribute.

"Judge, we are getting up a little book to be made up for the most part of voluntary testimonials from distinguished citizens who honor us by carrying their life insurance in our company. We shall be very glad to have one from you. Would you mind telling me in a few words how you came to insure with us?"

"Not at all, sir. Your agent was hounding me nearly to death. For six weeks he had made my life a burden. I gave him my application for life insurance just to get rid of him."—Chicago Tribune.

Clever Girl.

Mother—What's that I hear? Franz actually kissed you at the railway station? And what did you do, pray? Daughter—Well, so as to make everybody think I was a relative and so prevent a scandal I kissed him too.—Berlin Journal.

Knew How to Work It.

Lady—You are about the worst looking tramp I ever saw! Soapy Sam—Madam, it is the precepts of uncommon liveliness wot makes me look so horrible. Lady—Jane, give this poor man something to eat.—Sydney Bulletin.

Putting It Stronger.

"I guess she loves me, all right?" "Why so?" "She vows she'd rather be miserable with me than happy with anybody else."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

DROWNED IN THE CHANNEL AT BAY CITY

Efforts to Recover Body of
Fred Phillips of Fullerton
So Far Have Failed

All efforts to locate the body of Fred Phillips of Fullerton, who was drowned at Bay City Tuesday forenoon, have failed so far. Phillips, aged 22, was the son of George Phillips of Fullerton. Tuesday morning he went bathing on the bay side at Bay City, and it is believed that he was taken with cramps while in the channel. He came up but once before he finally sank from sight. It is thought that the tide carried the body out to sea.

Halsey J. Crouch of 1404 French street, a friend of Phillips, stated today that it is hoped that the body will be found within a day or two.

SOCIETY GIRLS BECOME SLEUTHS

Belles of Hungarian High Life
Relieve Ennui by Detective Thrills

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 4.—Society girls of Budapest suffering from ennui are turning "detective" in search of excitement and mental exhilaration. This latest stunt of young women in good social circles has just been disclosed in a love romance in the police department which has led to the discovery that a considerable number of prominent girls between 18 and 25—young women of means and highly educated—are on the regular roster of the police as female "Sherlocks."

The announcement of the engagement of a bank clerk to a prominent society girl has resulted in the disclosure of the fact that the police have a corps of lady detectives from the best families.

Recently a thousand dollars disappeared mysteriously from the cashier's window in one of the largest banks. Two clerks were present at the time. They asked to be searched. In the coat pocket of one of these was found a large new pocketbook containing the missing money. He protested his innocence so earnestly that the bank turned the case over to the police to unravel the mystery. The regular detectives failed and finally the chief called in a young girl of 18, daughter of a prominent family, who had secretly joined the "secret police" out of desire "to have something for her brain to do," as she expressed it.

This young woman had upon several occasions unraveled mysterious cases and was the best detective on the force. She quickly discovered that the pocketbook found in the pocket of the accused bank clerk came from a certain store. She obtained work in the store, discovered that one of the store girls was in love with the second bank clerk, had presented him with the pocketbook the day before the robbery.

With this information, the police confronted the other clerk. He confessed. The accused man, who was at liberty, had disappeared. The girl was set at work to find him. She discovered him on the bank of the Danube writing a farewell note before jumping into the water. The denouement was the announcement of an engagement and a wedding in September. The should know that his trees are being fumigated with material that is the most efficient and that costs the least money.

Greatest Efficiency and fullest Economy will be assured from the intelligent use of Pure Sodium Cyanide 129% R. & H. C. Co.

(specially made to meet fumigation requirements)

Always keep in mind the fact that 98 to 100% (Cyanide of commerce) does not mean that it is 98-100% pure: it is intended to mean only that it contains Cyanogen the equivalent of 98-100% Pure Cyanide Potash, about 39 lbs. of Cyanogen to each 100 lbs. of Cyanide.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., Cyanogen strength equal to 129 per cent Potash Cyanide, about 52 pounds Cyanogen to each 100 pounds of Soda Cyanide, as against about 39 pounds Cyanogen to each 100 pounds Potash Cyanide.

Cyanogen the Active Agent in field practice is converted in the generator into Killing Hydrocyanic Acid Gas.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., will deliver from the generator a larger percentage of the Cyanogen content, as Killing Gas, than will any other Cyanide, hence Greater Efficiency is Assured.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., costs less per pound, Cyanogen content basis, than any other Cyanide made, hence more economical.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., comes in hermetically-sealed, metal-lined cases, its Cyanogen strength is Guaranteed; never varies in strength or purity; is White; is Free From Salt; is in Small Pieces convenient for field requirements.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., generates perfectly, the resultant killing gas is free from impurities, hence damage risks practically eliminated.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., a simple chemical with no complex additions, no reducing agent and no impurities; gives no trouble in field practice, hence expensive waste is stopped.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., by virtue of its low cost per Cyanogen unit, as compared with other Cyanides, will save the grower from $120.00 to $250.00 per ton of Cyanide used, hence a money saver.

Ninety-eight to Ninety-nine Per Cent Cyanides at Anything over 17 1-2 Cents per pound are More Expensive to use for fumigation operations than is Pure Sodium Cyanide 129 Per Cent, R. & H. C. Co. at 25 Cents Per Pound.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., field formulas and dosage charts have been worked out and are available, also measuring devices properly graduated for acid and water.

Pure Sodium Cyanide, R. & H. C. Co., will stand the tests for Purity, Efficiency, Simplicity, Economy. It is the Ideal Cyanide for use in fumigation.

Mealy Bug—This citrus tree pest can be destroyed with Hydrocyanic Acid Gas Fumigation. For this purpose the dosage should be on the basis of 1 1-2 Ounces of Pure Sodium Cyanide to 100 Cubic feet. Two treatments are necessary; the second one should be had 18 to 21 days after the first treatment.

R. & H. C. Co. Cyanides are manufactured by be a detective. She let several girl friends in on the secret and they also became regular police detectives, subject only to special duty.

Now that several of them have become known, their usefulness is gone. One of these, a handsome miss of 19, declared that she turned Sherlock Holmes because she became tired of social doings and as the status of her family made it impossible to do any work without "disgracing" the family and herself in the eyes of friends, she wanted some "brain exercise." Speaking of her work today, she said:

"It is splendid to think and think over the mysteries of a case, try to put yourself in the place of the criminal and sense his way of thinking; to theorize and put your wits against those of some one else. I think women, because of their highly developed intuition, are particularly adapted for it."

MEETING DIFFICULTY OVER STREET PAVING

Anaheim Gazette: Resolution of intention relative to paving Lemon street was adopted by the board of trustees Thursday night. This was an amended resolution to the plans adopted at the previous meeting ending at South street whereas the new resolution extends the asphalt paving to Broad, 1300 feet below South.

The adoption of this resolution caused a somewhat heated discussion. Judge Stanley and John Ziegler were present with a demand that the long block between South and Broad streets be paved with asphalt, giving the city two full paved streets north and south. Dr. J. L. Beebe and R. A. Hoerner, who own the property fronting on this block, objected to it on the ground that it was unjust, unreasonable and practically confiscatory to order costly paving in streets where only ranch property exists.

The discussion grew warm at times. Judge Stanley, who has always been a booster for Lemon street, said if that street was paved from limit to limit of the city's corporation it would secure a portion of the travel that is now confined almost entirely to Los Angeles street. To leave one long block of street paved only with native sand and overgrown with weeds and sunflowers, meant that people traveling from the south would never find their way into Lemon street but would continue to travel on Los Angeles, believing that the only passable avenue through the city. Mr. Ziegler was more emphatic. He said if the board left this stretch of sand, weeds and sunflowers on their street he might resort to the law and hold up the entire work.

Both Dr. Beebe and Mr. Hoerner spoke in opposition to it. The cost would be $4,000, and the property was only ranch land, such an enormous assessment against it with an interest payment of $240 per year would be outrageous.

The amended resolution presented by City Attorney Ames, providing for asphalt paving during the entire length of Lemon street was then passed. Messrs. Stark and Cook voting for it and Gates against it, Hamler being absent. Dr. Beebe notified the board after its passage that he would not accept such an order and it is probable some action may be taken that will hold up for an indefinite time the paving of Lemon street. Otherwise work will probably begin on that thoroughfare within 60 days.

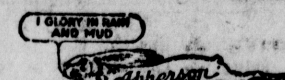

Adenoids Are a Menace to Children. Babies and young children must be carefully watched for the growth of adenoids, which spoil the mental and physical life of a child. They usually result from a succession of colds and throat irritations, and their presence is so productive of harm, that many school boards have an examining physician to detect them. The conditions that cause them may be easily avoided by careful parents. Quickly and thoroughly cure all colds and throat irritations by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and adenoids will not develop. Rowley Drug Co. and White Cross Drug Co.—Advertisement.

FIPPS SUES AUDITORIUM ON HIS LIEN

Difficulties of Theater Company
Taken Into Superior Court

Walter Q. Fipps, plasterer, is plaintiff in an action brought to foreclose a mechanic's lien upon the Auditorium Theater Company building on Spurgeon street between Third and Fourth streets. He names the theater company and its president, T. H. Fowler, as defendants. Other defendants are Mrs. Nancy J. Tedford and others who own the land upon which the building was built after the company had secured a year's option to buy it, and also all of the men and firms that have recorded mechanic's liens against the Auditorium.

Fipps asserts in his complaint, which was filed by Attorney G. H. Scott, that he took the contract to do the plaster work on the theater on May 15. His bill was $1065, of which $200 was paid on July 1, leaving $865 still due. Others who have liens on the building are E. A. Bell, G. P. Hill, California Steel Ceiling Co., F. H. McElree, C. H. Chapman, S. H. Pendleton Mill & Lumber Co., J. William Sackman, Cope Electric Co., R. S. Chandler, Pioneer Paper Co. and Crescent Hardware Co. The Santa Ana Bath House Company is named as a defendant as having some interest in a party wall.

It seems that the theater building company got into difficulty largely through the fact that a number of those who agreed to take out stock in the company failed to do so. An attempt was made to get the creditors together in the matter, but Fipps concluded that the best thing for him to do was to sue. The usual decree of foreclosure is asked.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

LOS ANGELES MAN ACCUSED OF USING UNPLEASANT WORDS

Tustin P. Ryer, a Los Angeles attorney, aged about 55, is on trial before Justice Cox today on a charge of disturbing the peace at Huntington Beach on July 26. Mrs. Della Gillon is the complaining witness. She alleged that Ryer asked her to pay for damage done to a bed owned by him in a room rented to Mrs. Gillon. When she refused, Mrs. Gillon and Mrs. Winn and other witnesses testified that Ryer used ungentlemanly epithets. D. G. Wettlin, a Huntington Beach attorney, appears with Ryer, but Ryer does most of the talking. District Attorney West is prosecuting the case before a jury.

CIRCUS PRESENTS "JOAN OF ARC" SUPERB SPECTACLE COSTS THE RINGLING BROTHERS $500,000

"Joan of Arc," a spectacle costing $500,000 to devise and produce, is offered this year by Ringling Brothers as an introductory to their regular circus program. It is presented on a stage bigger than 100 ordinary theaters and with a cast of 1200 characters. A traiload of special scenery, costumes and stage properties are required.

The story of "Joan of Arc," a simple peasant girl who became the deliverer of France, and at last, betrayed by all, was burned on the public square on the false charge of heresy and witchcraft, is familiar to all. It is presented by Ringling Brothers in a masterful way, retaining to the end its pathos, its sentiment and its thrilling dramatic interest.

The play begins when Joan, just sixteen years old, comes from her father's pasture at Domremy at the command of the Archangel St. Michael to the court of Charles VII at Chinon. In the light of a thousand torches she is brought into the presence of the king in the great palace which throngs with the nobles of France. The reception which the king gives to the peasant girl is filled with impressiveness and suspense. The second climax of the great spectacle is reached when Joan, dressed in armor, crosses the river at Orleans and rides at the head of the French army into the beleaguered city. One of her heralds presents himself at the English camp. Respect to the messenger of a reputed sorceress is denied and the herald is threatened with death. Another messenger is sent to defy Talbot, and to declare from the girl that if any harm is done him it shall be retaliated on the English prisoners.

Joan in shining armor appears at a tower facing the Tourneilles, bidding the soldiers of Suffolk and Talbot to depart. This they refused to do. At the head of the French knights and archers Joan rides between the towers of the besiegers and followed by the villagers who look on in wonder at the sight of a mere girl leading the armies of France.

Joan rides through victory after victory, her mysterious power leading her on. A scene of matchless beauty is disclosed by the changing of the scenery to that of the magnificent court of Charles VII at Rheims, where, through the inspired deeds of the Maid of Orleans the king is restored to his throne. Here amid regal splendor, the joyous acclaim of the populace and the pomp of pageantry, is enacted the most beautiful episode in French history. The stage version ends with the introduction of a great ballet of 300 beautiful dancing girls, a grand opera chorus, 600 horses and an ensemble of 1200 people. The closing chapter of Joan's life is too sad for this drama of gladness, though her capture, her imprisonment and her execution are told in a series of thrilling tableaux by means of tons of scenery and a great battery of electric mechanism.

Twenty Camels in One Team
A twenty-camel team is one of the features of Ringling Brothers' big street parade this year. There are also teams of zebras, elephants, llamas and deer. They are all used in pulling chariots and tableau vans. The parade is three miles in length and it is all new.

EX-KING MANUEL WEDS PRINCESS

SIGMARINGEN, Germany, Sept. 4.—Former King Manuel of Portugal was married to Princess Augustine Victoria of Hohenzollern, in the castle of the bride's father, here today. The ceremonies, which followed the Roman Catholic ritual, were conducted by Cardinal Netto, former archbishop patriarch of Lisbon.
Manuel was married on Portuguese soil, for a sack of earth had been sent from Lisbon for him to stand on during the ceremony.
There was a brilliant gathering of princes and princesses. Among them were the Prince of Wales, representing King George of England; Prince Eitel Frederick, representing Emperor William of Germany; Prince and Princess Henry XXXIII of Reuss; Princess Frederick of Hohenzollern, Prince Carol and Princess Elizabeth.

Monthly recitals, also public ones, will be given. All former patrons and others interested will be welcome at the Studio for information and inspection of work.

Night School opens September 1 at Orange County Business College.

SENSATIONAL CHARGE AGAINST VIVISECTIONISTS

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—That women of the underworld in Frankfurt have been seized and forcibly used as "experimental guinea pigs" in the city hospital in investigations regarding treatment of human beings with Professor Ehrlich's "salvarsan," and that fifteen deaths have occurred and a number of unfortunate women made lame or blind as a result of the treatment, are some of the charges made by Herr Wassman, editor of a local paper. As a result of an open letter written by Wassman to Professor Ehrlich asking whether he had knowledge of these facts and approved of human beings being treated with his remedy against their will, the prosecuting attorney brought action against Wassman for libel. By previous arrangement the action today was dropped. It was taken as an indication that Wassman had some ground for his charges.
